

HARDINSBURG, KY.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Workers Will Discuss Interesting Subjects.

The Program Embraced Some Live Topics.

The following is the program of the Breckinridge County Sunday School Association to be held at Irvington, Ky., Thursday, June 9th, 1939.

MEMBERSHIP SERVICE

9:30—Opening Song.

Prayer.

Welcome Address—Rev. Jas. T. Lewis.

Response—R. L. McGuffin.

Music.

10:15—The Christian Culture of Childhood. What it is, and who is responsible for it—Mrs. R. M. Jolly.

10:45—Association Work, and how it helps the individual Sunday School—Prof. E. A. State Secretary.

Music.

11:15—Reports of Societies, Prayers and collection.

Music.

Benediction.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

1:15—Music.

Prayer.

What we need in the Breckinridge county Sunday School Work—T. J. Jolly.

1:45—How to meet the need for better teachers—F. N. D'Har.

General Discussion.

Music.

2:30—How to conduct a Primary Class—Mrs. Kate Herndon.

3—How to enlist the church membership—T. B. Henderson.

3:30—Punctuality, its value, and how secured—Rev. A. H. Davis.

4—Treasurer's Report.

Election of officers.

Music.

Adjustment.

Evening Session.

7:45—Music.

Prayer.

Introductory—Jas. F. Howell, Jr.

Address—Prof. E. A. Fox, State Secretary.

Music.

Each Sunday School in the county is requested to send one or more delegates, and all are cordially invited to attend.

V. G. BAIRD, Pres't.

CLINT HOOK, Sec'y.

PLANS TO QUICKEN THE INTEREST IN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

There are quite a number of plans that might be enumerated and discussed as to quickening the interest in Sunday School work. But do not feel content to give and thoroughly discuss this question so I will only speak of what I consider the most important.

First—It is a known fact that in our secular school it is essentially necessary to have apparatus for demonstrating and placing before the pupils the ideas in a correct way that can readily be acquired and easily retained, and even it is necessary that we are provided with this in our Sunday school work. Two of the most important is the black-board and map.

Blackboard and map illustrations will quicken and inspire a pupil when almost all else has failed, when the lesson is so hard to understand. These proper use of these help the superintendent or teacher, will relieve the pupils' mind of this burden and quicken the interest that without this help would have been lost.

Second—Officers and teachers.

In these is all the rule and control of the Sunday School. It is important that we have men and women of earnest effort and Christian zeal to fill these places and impart inspiration to the school order, punctuality, and precision on the part of the officers and teachers, will awaken that interest in the school work. The successful teachers in this field of labor are men and women of heart-power. These who love the erring and wayward. And their happy influence and success know that the heart knows the heart. And special emphasis needs to be given to the fact that the teacher's love is to be shown most conscientiously toward the pupils that need it most, not to the most deserving, but to the least deserving. The love of the true teacher takes hold of the child's future, and it sees even in the wayward, the possibilities of a noble man or woman. It is this love that lifts up the fallen, carries light into moral darkness and sends the missionary to the heathen.

Third—There are many motives and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

Second—A desire to be useful.

"This is a very important incentive and each member of our Sunday School should feel that he can be of some use to the world. He must remember that God made him for some purpose. He can be thus useful by doing the mind with knowledge and filling up this life with little deeds of kindness. They are all great deeds in the eyes of the Lord, and at this moment none to my mind the language of the poet.

"The face of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but little doth wisdom and instruction." Prov. 1:7.

TO MY CHILDREN.

DAYS, months and years have passed away, But the past seems spread on the carpet to-day. When I think of many little hands and tiny little feet Who were always ready, any footstep to greet. Where are those children who once sat on my knee, As sweet and dear as any children could be? Echo answers none are leading a business life, Others filling the place of dear, good home-wife, And others have been transplanted in a fairer clime, Whose lot is far better than yours or mine. A few yet linger around the old hearth-stone Who are no too young to try opinions of their own.

Children, the old home is as it was when you went away, But mother and father are now turning gray. Did you ever picture mother when she's old With silver threads among the gold? Do not let your hearts grow cold, But love me dearer when I am old. My heart is as full of love to-day For the absent as when they went away. And I am just as proud of my girls and boys As I was when they played with their toys. But now it is a different kind of pride, Such as you find in this land so wide.

Children, your attention one moment I pray, Probably you may profit by what I have to say. Pay close attention, and I will tell How boys and girls can always do well. As through Life's flowery pathway you glide, Seek Honor and Truth, but nothing to hide; Heaven be your watch-word, Zenith your day star, And there is nothing your life will mar. Be gentle and kind to each other Never forgetting you are a sister or a brother. In sickness, sorrow, weal or woe, Stick to each other wherever you go.

And now, dear ones, when this earth fades from my view Remember the most of my life has been spent for you. And in so doing I have not forgotten to pray That I may reunite us some golden day. And when I am called to join the little band That has gone on before to the bright happy land, Think of mother's spirit hovering o'er you, Trying each one of your foot-steps to allure, Still pointing you to a Throne of Grace Divine, When a loving Saviour around His arms entwine. And when we are again reunited, what joy! what pleasure!

Our happiness and rejoicing will know no measure. —MAMMA.

You can stand upon the pillars As hares yet with the day You can be a hand to help him Who has been hurt and sore. If you cannot give the million You can give the widow mite. And the love you give for him Will be precious in his sight.

Quicken the little people with such thoughts and interest them in the sunshine from the gospel and inspire them with gems of literature that go to make up a better life. These committed to memory when young become a part of the child's life and help him to see the beauties of Christ.

Third—A desire to do right. This is indeed the high: as of holiness of all the motives of human life. And the sense of duty is no less important. Duty is the call of God, and duty well done always brings its reward.

Do what conscience says is right, Do what reason says is best, Do what your mind and might, Do your duty to the best.

Fourth—A last, but not least, comes the home influence.

Here is the place to quicken the great interest in Sunday school work. We cannot find anything that equals and yields such an influence as the home. This is the first great engine of education. The first engine put in motion by the love of Christ in his Father's love into the Sunday school the boys and girls of our land. In the home we find all the materials for Sunday school, and if this home is ennobled by Christ's light and using its influence for Christ, we need nothing better to quicken the interest of a Sunday school.

But we must remember that every child is not so surrounded as to have every encouragement that is necessary to make his life happy and to enjoy the blessings God has designed for it. But the Sunday school is a means by which this Eternal Life can be attained, for there is no other way. Gifts by cruel hands defunct, Poverty in teachers' salaries, Gains in teachers' salaries, We must gather up for him.

HARDINBURG. Dr. Fowler has closed his school at Cedar and is spending a few weeks here in the R. N. College.

The Baptist people of Glendene are talking of building a new church at that place in the near future.

Miss Georgia McCabbin, of Stephentown, came over last Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. Godfrey Howell.

That evening train on the branch gives the railroad boys something to do. The public were glad to see it put back.

Dr. T. D. Bassford will be in Hardinburg, prepared to do palatine, first class dentistry, the first Monday in June, Permanent location at Cloverport.

We will sell you bacon, food, land, canned goods, and many other things that you use in your family as cheap as you can buy it elsewhere, and deliver it to your door.

Mr. Owen Cunningham returned last Thursday from a meeting of the Women's Board of Missions, at Nashville. He spent a week there, and reports that she had a most delightful trip, besides enjoying the pleasure of meeting some of the most cultured women engaged in missionary work.

We regret to learn that Mrs. H. H. H. of one of the oldest citizens in the Lost Run neighborhood, is quite feeble in health and unable to be seen. Mrs. H. H. is one of the old citizens in the county, and in days past was an

Mrs. G. W. Smith and daughter Katie, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Mattingly of Dayton, Ohio. They will be gone two weeks.

Walker Brown will spend the latter part of this week at Hot Springs with his family. Mr. Board's son and Col. A. J. Gross will run the store at this place.

Allen English (ed) of Chicago who came here last week for the purpose of buying land, purchased 75 acres of Chas. Anderson and expects to buy more.

Miss Helen Pollock who is in residence at Harps, Ky., visited her mother at this place last Sunday and attended church. We were glad to have Miss Helen back in our midst.

Mr. Beak's family received a letter from John Beak who is in the regular army. He is in Glendene, Ohio. They were glad indeed to hear from him for they didn't even know where he was stationed.

The strawberry crop of this season cannot be surpassed in this section of the country. Every one brings upon his or her patch, but from what can be heard, Ford McGhee has the record to date, for family consumption purposes, his family having used and consumed 80 gallons.

If the engineers of freight trains who run through this town get any more about whistling their engines the good country people will have to take to fleeing. It is a shame about 3 miles before getting to town, for it is an every-day sight to see someone with the GLENDENE—"I can call spirits from the dead." Why, so can I, or so can any man.

But will they come when you do call for them? —SHAKESPEARE.

How quickly Hottel's wife and witty retort leaves the tragic matter in which Glendene stalks, and shows beneath the sea's rock, the mottled of the mountain.

Most people would have taken the Weidman at his word, and called him a liar, without noting the difference between to call and to command.

Certain points of comparison are suggested between Glendene's tragic claim and the comic claim made in some of the same circumstances. "I understand woman, and I can cure woman because I am a woman." The modern Mrs. Hottel puts her finger right on the weak spot of that claimant's claim by saying:

"Why if you can cure woman simply because you are a woman, then so can I, and so can any woman." Which very plainly brings out the common sense fact that the cure of diseases does not depend upon being a man or being a woman but depend upon being a qualified woman physician associated with any proprietary medicine firm. It is certain that there is no one, man or woman, who can show an experience or record equal to that of Dr. R. N. Pierce; more than thirty years of conference with men's diseases with ninety-eight per cent. cured out of more than half-a-million women treated. Sick women can consult Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely free of charge. Every letter is held strictly private and secretly confidential. All answers are mailed securely sealed in perfectly plain envelopes. Address Dr. R. N. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

active participant in matters of public interest.

H. H. Deewe, W. R. Moorman, D. C. Moorman, W. C. Moorman, G. W. Beard, R. N. Miller, C. R. Howell, Will Hook, John P. Howell, Jr., Owen Cunningham, Judge A. H. and Miss Maggie All, Minor Compton, Robert Weatherford, A. A. Richardson, E. F. Lyons, D. R. M. Smith, Samuel Henninger, Irvin Payne, J. W. Tate and A. Gray were passengers on the train last Monday for Louisville of the branch.

Upon the return of Miss Tula C. Daniel from Nashville, Tenn., where she had been attending the meeting of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions, she had the misfortune to stumble and fall in crossing the upper hall of her residence, fracturing a rib and bruising an arm, which will confine her to her home for several days. For this reason the meeting of the missionary society will be held at her home, instead of at Mrs. C. L. Beare's, Friday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

Glendene News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Weidman, N. Y. He writes: "I am a sufferer of Electric Bitters has cured me of rheumatism, which has caused me great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on my head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her care is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have gained—no more rheumatism, no more blood purifier known. It's the superior remedy for eczema, tetter, psoriasis, eczema, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by Short & Haynes, Druggist. Guaranteed.

GUSTON.

Dr. Encheider, of Indiana, visited Dr. A. Baxter and family last Saturday and Sunday.

Frank Miller and Miss Vaughn made a visit over to Vine Grove last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. George Lyndon and wife attended church here last Sunday and dined with Mrs. Adelson.

Amel Good and family visited his father and brother who live near Irvington, last Saturday.

Ben Miller who is at present living near Big Spring visited his mother at this place last Saturday.

It is said that John Pike has the finest wheat crop in this county. I understand that he used no fertilizer on this crop.

Will Beakett and family, and Chas. Anderson and family were seen fishing about here Brandenburg to the house of Wm. Beakett Sr.

Mrs. G. W. Smith and daughter Katie, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Mattingly of Dayton, Ohio. They will be gone two weeks.

Walker Brown will spend the latter part of this week at Hot Springs with his family. Mr. Board's son and Col. A. J. Gross will run the store at this place.

Allen English (ed) of Chicago who came here last week for the purpose of buying land, purchased 75 acres of Chas. Anderson and expects to buy more.

Miss Helen Pollock who is in residence at Harps, Ky., visited her mother at this place last Sunday and attended church. We were glad to have Miss Helen back in our midst.

Mr. Beak's family received a letter from John Beak who is in the regular army. He is in Glendene, Ohio. They were glad indeed to hear from him for they didn't even know where he was stationed.

The strawberry crop of this season cannot be surpassed in this section of the country. Every one brings upon his or her patch, but from what can be heard, Ford McGhee has the record to date, for family consumption purposes, his family having used and consumed 80 gallons.

If the engineers of freight trains who run through this town get any more about whistling their engines the good country people will have to take to fleeing. It is a shame about 3 miles before getting to town, for it is an every-day sight to see someone with the ment of a friend chasing a 210 horse that has been scared out of his skin by the screaming of the locomotive. But the fall road people say they have been fixed pretty heavily for not looking at this place. So now they propose to continue to look until they catch even, so have you and your horse live insured before entering, or else you won't even save the throat latch of your horse.

No-To-Bac For Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong. 50c. Box. See Dr. A. D. Candler.

FALLS OF ROUGH.

Mrs. Charlie Shreve, of Louisville, is very ill.

Dr. Dempster talks of selling out his drug store.

Late Beacham went to Ohio county to church.

Mrs. Jones, of Glendene, died with consumption.

Mrs. David Howard entertained Saturday evening.

Miss Jennie Green returned from Louisville last week.

Willie Green and Dr. Harris went to Glendene Sunday.

Mrs. Mercer has gotten well and was out at church Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Brack, of Short Creek, was the guest of Mrs. Belle Deewe, of Glendene, last week.

While I was away quite a number of distinguished guests honored our village with a visit.

M. W. Stone shipped a couple of fine Poland China pigs to parties in Louisville last week.

We still have several cases of measles, with a few others who have been exposed to the disease.

Miss Hanna Deewe, of Owensboro, is a guest at her dear friend's, Mr. Johnson Deewe, Glendene.

The Falls of Rough is very much elated with their victory over the Mackville ball team.

Miss Helen Armstrong, a beautiful young lady, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Jennie Green.

Mrs. Harris, (Dr. Harris) mother of Richmond Va., was the guest of her son a few days last week.

Misses Jennie Green and her guest, Miss Helen Armstrong, visited Miss Amanda Deewe, Saturday and Sunday.

The girls of Glendene had a picnic at Rough and Mackville scored a victory 29 in favor of Falls of Rough.

Mr. Robert Chambliss, Misses Nabel and Zelma Chambliss, Chas. Winget attended church at Pleasant Grove, Sunday last.

Mrs. Deewe says she has sold more than a dozen since ever before. She has lovely goods and people come from everywhere to Glendene to shop with her.

Madam Rumor says there has been a wedding, but it seems that the parties are playing a joke and will not gratify the public's curiosity by making it known.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moorman, Mrs. Dempster, Misses Ella Robertson, Alvin Robertson, Mary Moorman, Alvin Deane, and Miss Glendene, all of whom whose names I did not catch, were out calling or shopping at Glendene Friday afternoon.

Died May 14th, Little Paul, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rodgers, of Harps and West Ohio, Owensboro. He and uncle let year convalescence, but that Paul is a happy and healthy boy who may meet in that sweet home where there is no more pain and anxiety sympathies with you in your deep sorrow. The remains were laid to rest by the side of Grandma in the family lot at Elm Wood.

PEKIN.

I. L. Miller farms in the week and Hales on Sunday.

Your humble contributor was at Garfield this week on business.

Some of the farmers are almost done planting corn in this section.

Miss Fannie M. Glendene and Frank Jolly went to Garfield last Saturday morning.

G. H. Hall was in our midst this week looking after a fine milk cow, which he bought of Mr. Glendene, who spent a few days at Hudson last week, visiting his wife's brother, Tom LeGrand and sister Mrs. Tom Deane.

The musical entertainment given by Preston Beakett last Saturday night was quite well attended and pleasantly enjoyed by all present.

Most all the boys and girls in this, and Garfield section, are anxious to see the State convention for W. Watt Hazzard for governor, first, last and all the time.

GOW. CANDLER PRIZES S.S.S.

He has Used it for Fifteen Years, and Declares it is the Best Blood Purifier and Tonic Available. Strong Words from Georgia's Chief Executive.

There is not one person in a hundred whose system can successfully withstand the severe drains of the Spring season without the aid of a tonic. All

Allen D. Candler. Faithful to every trust, his rugged honesty is his shining virtue. His word is accepted far and wide, for he never gives an endorsement without a voluminous knowledge of the merits of an article. Governor Candler has used S. S. S. for fifteen years; he knows that it is made of the native roots of Georgia—that it contains no drugs of any description—and it is the best tonic he ever used. S. S. S. is the only tonic which contains no opium, soda, arsenic or other dangerous stimulant. You need S. S. S. to cure every form of sickness so prevalent and need know. A few bottles will thoroughly cleanse the blood, improve your appetite, and renovate your system. It is the people as their beloved Governor, sit upon S. S. S. and take nothing else.

The Governor's Unqualified Endorsement

STATE OF GEORGIA, Executive Office. Atlanta, May 8, 1898. I have for fifteen years used S. S. S. as a remedy for rheumatism and as a tonic. It is unquestionably a good blood purifier, and I am sure the best tonic I ever used. For many years my digestion was bad, but the occasional use of a bottle of S. S. S. has entirely cured me of this malady, and I now eat with perfect impunity anything set before me.

A. D. CANDLER.

FARMERS! HERE ARE SOME FACTS ABOUT THE Osborne Columbia Reaper.

